

BECAUSE YOU'VE GOT ENOUGH ON YOUR PLATE

Corum and Storbie have made running your pharmacy online a whole lot easier.

Your website should be an extension of your physical pharmacy.

Just like your phone or your EFTPOS machine, your pharmacy website is an essential tool for connecting with and supporting your patients.

Doesn't it just make sense to ensure your website stays in sync with your physical pharmacy?

Online sales you make through your Storbie site automatically appear in Corum, working in with your existing workflow to keep product information, stock levels and pricing up to date. It's almost like magic.

What's more, you can match your current inventory with our Storbie Supplier Network to bring supplier managed product information onto your ecommerce store with the click of a button.

Seamless POS Integration with Corum LOTS.

Pricing, promotions, stock levels and purchases. All this data flows between your POS and your Storbie website automatically, saving you time and giving your customers a consistent experience.

Award winning product management

Boost the retail arm of your pharmacy and make it simple for your patients to stay happy and healthy. The Storbie Supplier Network lightens the load of keeping products up to date online.

Be the trusted online advisor

Load up your Storbie site with pre-approved health articles and provide trusted advice whenever and wherever it's needed.

Be there when people are looking for you

Built with optimal performance in mind, Storbie sites help you appear higher in Google search results. That means more patients can find you when they need you.

Don't have a website?
