Actonel on PBS

The first once-a-month osteoporosis therapy to be listed on the PBS becomes available today, with more than 2 million Australians suffering from the condition set to benefit as a result.

Actonel (risedronate sodium) 150mg Once-a-Month is a bisphosphonate PBS-listed for the treatment of osteoporosis in patients with a prevalent fracture, those aged 70+ with a BMD T-score of -3.0 or less and in patients on long term (3 months or more) high dose corticosteroid therapy with BMD T-score of -1.5 or less.

The convenient dosing regimen means patients only need to take 12 tablets a year, meaning compliance is much easier.

Terry White-Symbion pact

MEMBERS of the Terry White Chemists group will be offered an opportunity to acquire an equity interest in the company which operates the franchise, under a “unique partnership arrangement” with Symbion announced today.

The new agreement will see the Terry White Chemists brand licensed to a company owned by the seven pharmacist directors of the Terry White Chemists board. It will also see the business known as Terry White Management, which operates the franchise, owned by the board members effective today.

Group Chairman Terry White said the move was “about stabilising the ownership of the franchise company, offering the TWC members an equity interest in the franchise company and putting in place a significant development strategy for the TWC network focused on retail systems and professional services.”

He said staff at Terry White Management would continue in their current roles, with the firm initially owned by the directors and over the next 18 months offered to all TWC members and key executives in a capital raising.

“There are a lot of opportunities for pharmacists investing and working together as a compliant network that provides a sustainable support structure for Australian Pharmacists,” White said.

The same seven pharmacist directors already own Pharmacy Direct, which they purchased as a result of Coles being forced to divest itself of the business by the NSW Supreme Court (PD 16 Apr).

White said franchisees would also be offered equity in Australia’s largest on-line pharmacy business, thus aligning members’ interest to develop and grow the TWC on-line business in the future.”

Symbion Pharmacy CEO Patrick Davies said the deal was “a positive and optimistic outcome. “This agreement enables the pharmacist members to take a greater role in the retail operations of the business while cementing our partnership into the future.”

Davies said that Andrew Vidler, who had been in charge of TWC for the last five years, would now head up a new Retail Services Group to expand Symbion’s retail portfolio.

“With the benefit of 25 years experience in the wholesale market, Andrew has the potential to be a valuable asset to Symbion,” Davies said.

“We have seen excellent growth in Terry White Chemists, Chemmart, Consumer Products and Minfos over recent years, and we are in good shape to develop a range of initiatives in these areas,” Davies said.

CPD not compulsory

The Pharmacists Board of Queensland has reassured that compulsory CPD and recency of practice requirements will not be implemented from 01 Jul 09 “due to the proposed introduction of the national registration and accreditation scheme” and to avoid duplication of effort.

However under the national scheme, from 01 Jul 2010 registrants are expected to be required to demonstrate participation in a CPD program approved by the national board.
